

Team Mobilizes with Wrap-around Supports

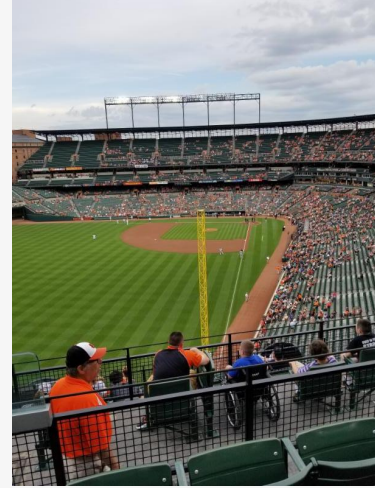

As you may recall, the Department of Disability Administration (DDA) passed on a ruling from CMS that requires individuals to be out in the community for at least 6 hours every day. We have until March 2022 to make that transition, which will require a lot of changes for both the agency and the individuals we serve. One of the ways that we are meeting this ruling is through the development and deployment of community integration teams. These teams will provide wrap around supports to each individual who attends our program; meaning all staff will be trained in all program areas. Each team member will have a tablet to assist with community activities, documentation, and communication purposes.

This program is being piloted by our Personal Supports program, which is now fully mobile with tablets. As always, our goal is to create meaningful experiences for all the individuals that we serve.

Personal Supports in the Community

As mentioned, our Personal Supports team has been active in the community. Below are some photos from some recent outings to the Air and Space Museum and Camden Yards.
